

Drug overdose persists as a major public health issue in the United States. In 2022, approximately every seven minutes one life was lost due to an overdose caused by opioids, which include morphine, hydrocodone,

La Crisis de los Opioides

