Housing Affordability Must Be Addressed Locally and Nationally

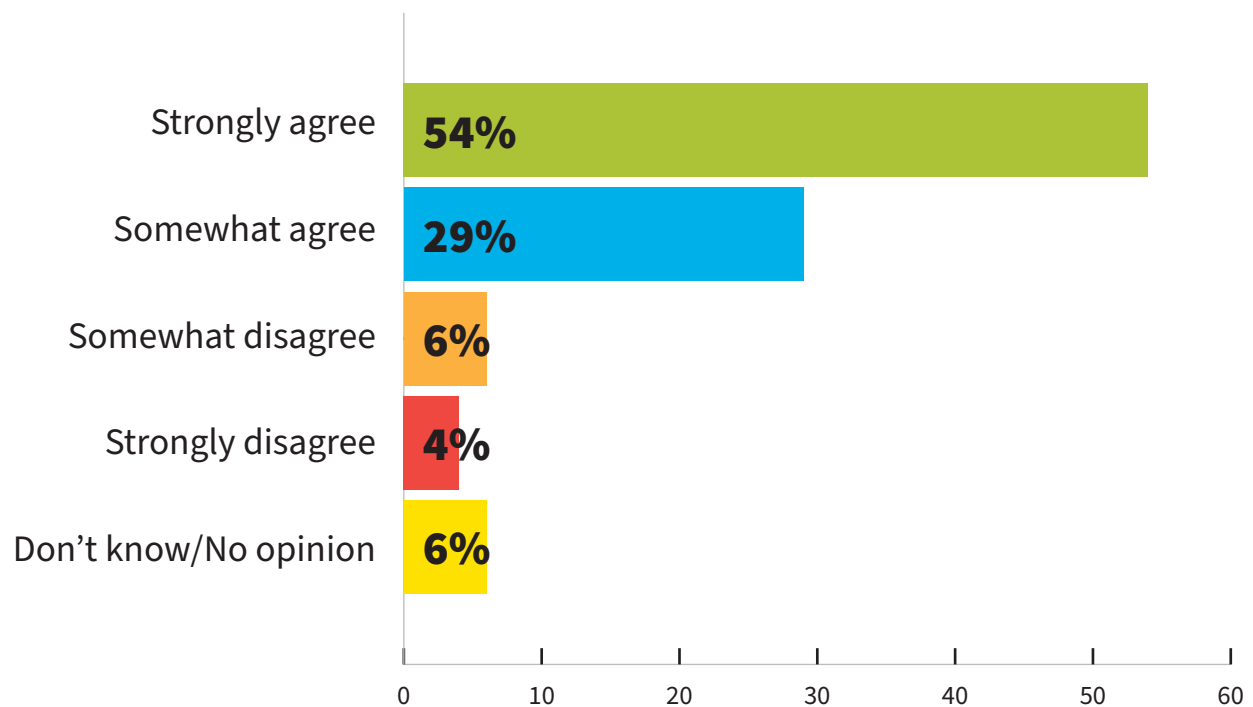

It's harder than ever for American families to find a home that meets their needs at a price they can afford. Policymakers at all levels of government are looking for ways to provide more affordable homeownership and rental housing opportunities. In response, the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) is offering a 10-point plan with potential policy solutions that can be implemented

Preserving current homeowners' ability to restrict new housing development near their neighborhoods

Creating more medium-density housing that is affordable to moderate-income households, younger households

Do you agree or disagree that there is a housing affordability crisis where you live?

In your opinion, should city and county officials do more to encourage the production of housing that is affordable to low- and moderate-income households?
